Impact

The evaluation of impact of the Sport Funding has been disrupted due to COVID and the school closure in January 2021. The COVID-19 Lockdown resulted in all class based and external Sports initiatives being suspended.

The school closure has affected our ability to collect swimming and water safety data, as the Summer Term is allocated for swimming lessons and therefore, did not take place.

We were able to continue to provide a weekly sports coach for our key worker children, and our Sports Apprentice also worked with this group, providing some additional sports activities.

Schools reopened to all pupils from April 2021. The government have acknowledged the impact of this closure on the children:

Children and young people across the country have experienced unprecedented disruption to their education as a result of coronavirus (COVID-19). Those from the most vulnerable and disadvantaged backgrounds will be among those hardest hit. The aggregate impact of lost time in education will be substantial, and the scale of our response must match the scale of the challenge.

Sport will remain a high priority for Jotmans Hall, and many of the existing initiatives will continue alongside new ones in order to close the gap and help support the wellbeing and mental health of children moving forward.

The expectation is that we teach an ambitious and broad curriculum in all subjects from the start of the autumn term, but make use of existing flexibilities to create time to cover the most important missed content.

Education Secretary Gavin Williamson, said:

During these challenging times, it has become clearer to me than ever the importance of keeping active and how it benefits not just our physical health but also our ability to pay attention, our mood and our mental health too.

Every family will have had a different experience of the pandemic, and I know that many children will have missed time spent outdoors with their friends - that's why it's so important that ahead of a full return to school in September, schools get the certainty they need to prepare their PE and sports activities for next year.
